NOTED LECTURER TO VISIT CITY THURSDAY

Fred B. Smith Will Deliver Series of Addresses on Y. M. C. A. Work.

The many friends of the Salt Lake Y. M. C. A. will be glad to learn that Fred B. Smith, of New York, secretary of the religious work department of the International committee of the Y. M. C. A. is to visit this city this week for the purpose of delivering a series of lectures on the work of the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Smith was here some four years ago, and at that time made a pronounced hit. He has been urged frequently to visit the dity to give his series of addresses, but it was only recently that definite arrangements were completed for a return visit.

Mr. Smith is constantly touring this country, Canada, England and even South America and Australia, and each week addresses audiences of men ranging in numbers from 100e to 5000. His many admirers among the business men declare him to be the greatest speaker to men in the world. In his particular field he is, perhaps, unequaled on the North American continent.

The details of Mr. Smith's visit have not been announced as yet, but they will include at least two noon meetings at some spacious theater and even meetings at the Y. M. C. A. He is scheduled to arrive Thursday and a group of his promoters are planning a dinner in his honor Thursday evening. Invitations for this affair have just been sent out by a committee consisting of Windsor V. Rice, president of the association: Thomas Wier, chairman of the department of special religious work, and A. C. Adamson, director.

E. L. Sloan acted as council commander and read the ritual. The pallbearers were four members of the camp. Burial was in Mt. Olivet cemetery. Rev. J. Liman Baker, Mrs. Baker and two brothers of Cove Creek, Gr., came to this city and were present at the funeral.

The Smith Drug Co. and Druehl & Franken Offer to Cure Catarrh. The Medicine Costs Nothing if They Fail.

When a medicine effects a cure in 98 per cent of cases, and when we offer that medicine on our own personal guarantee that it will cost the user nothing if it does not cure Catarrh, it is only reasonable that people should believe us, or at least put our claim to a practical test when we take all the risk. These are facts which we want the people of Salt Lake to substantiate. We want them to try Rexall Mucu-Tone, a medicine prepared from a prescription of a physician whose specialty was Catarrh, and who has a record of thirty years of cures to the total cases. has a record of thirty years of cures to his credit.

We sell more bottles and receive more good reports about Rexall Mucu-Tone than we do of all other catarrh remedies sold in our store, and if more people only knew what a thoroughly dependable remedy Rexall Mucu-Tone is, it would be the only catarrh medicine we would have any demand for.

Wagner, was well done by the Salt Lake Male chorus. In this organization are some good voices, and it is apparent that pains have been taken to harmonize the whole, and especially to equalize each with the other in respect to volume of utterance. Handel's Largo completed the number by this company, and of this latter it can be said that it was above the average of rendition. The two pieces together gave an opportunity to show the ability of the chorus in different, vocal spheres.

show the ability of the chorus in different vocal spheres.

Max Bruch's cantata. "Fair Ellen," by the Festival chorus of mixed voices, was a splendid finale to the programme. In this Miss Evans and Mr. Ensign appeared as the soloists. Miss Evans was slightly at a disadvantage, as her voice is not wint is termed a "big" voice, and association with the robuste of Mr. Ensign served only to accentuate the fact. But her's is a sweet voice, and her training showed its effects in her poise and easy handling of her part. The body of the chorus wis well under the director's baton, and the cantata received a faithful attention that was praiseworthy and that sent the audience home feeling that it had been well to have listened.

The reopening of the Grand brought with it a well filled house, and the performance of McEwen, who is the whole show, insures good houses for the week. The programme is divided into three sections, one minute apart, the first of which is devoted to logerdemain. Real interest in the performance commences with the raise of the curtain on the second section of the curtain on the second section of the cuttain on the performer introduces his handulf and shackle work. This performance is really very clever, and far ahead of the most of such work and the reducest of the management, appeared two deputies from the shriff's office. Deputies Steele and Johnson, and ex-Sheriff Jerry of Union county, Oregon, together with several other officers, all well provided with irons of various kinds, including the "double S" and the "bar" cuff, and at one time all the Irons carried by the officers were on the performer. He shed them as leaves in an October breeze, fairly jerking them off and scattering them about the stage. All the irons were pleked up unlocked, and the manner in which they were removed, and the speed with which it was done, precluded the pessibility of working with a key or "pick." At least two of the irons used, the "double S' and the "bar" cutf, could not have been opened with a key, even had the performer been supplied with one, as both irons are made in such a manner that when snapped on the wrists the fingers of neither hand could reach the lock, or near cnough to it to insert a key.

The last section of the performance consists of hymotic exhibitions, a part of which are highly interesting, although somewhat trying, as the "pinning" of the subjec

Miss Blanche Douglas, who has been appearing with Willard Mack's company at the Bungalow, will, at the close of this week, sever her connection with the company and return to California, where she will take a much-needed reat. Miss Douglas has been with Mr. Mack's company since he opened in stock here, and she has made many friends among Salt Lakers. She is an actress of more than ordinary ability. In "The Girl of the Golden West," which was the opening play in which she appeared here, she demonstrated her talent by some splendid acting. No one could portray that character better than she did, and in the other plays since in which she has been the leading lady she has maintained the prophecy said of her, that she is entitled to rank among the best actresses. Playgoers will resret the departure of Miss Douglas, but in view that she has been seventy-five weeks in a stock company without any rest, it is necessary for her health that she take a vacation. Miss Douglas will be succeeded by Miss Mary K. Hall.

K. Hall.

No play that has, been seen in the west in many years comes with a stronger record of past success than does "Fhe Right of Way," which will be seen at the Salt Lake theater the last half of the week. With Guy Standing and Theodore Roberts as the co-stars, this play is now in its second successful season. It comes here with the company which originally played it in New York, and the principal characters are in the hands of the players who created them. As Charley Steele and Joe Portugais, Mr. Standing and Mr. Roberts are seen in roles which the most prominent crities of the country have declared creations worthy to be placed beside the great creations of stage history. The characters are distinct and unique, and the spirit and atmosphere of Sir Glibert Parker's great story have been retained in the dramatic version.

In Hotel Corridors

THE MANY FRIENDS of James O'Brien, formerly night clerk at the Knutsford, and later assistant manager of the Reed hotel, at Ogden, will be sorry to learn that he has been obliged to relinquish his position at Ogden owing to ill health. Mr. O'Brien made a decided hit in the hotel business in this and the Junction City. Mr. O'Brien returns to The Antiers at Colorado Springs, where he is to become chief clerk. He has already entered upon his duties which are by no means new to him, as he was formerly connected with the house in a like capacity.
